My dear friend

Will you write and tell me whether I shall find you at Vienna if I come out there by the end of next month. My wife has never yet been in your country, and if I can get free for a few weeks I think of paying a visit to the good old

Kaiserstadt, and of taking a look at Innsbruck and at Schwaz & Zell in the Zillerthal on my way.
Who should I find at either of these places or at Briegleb who would show me interesting things? I should like for instance to see something of the Adalmsdorfer described by Trüper years ago. Has anything appeared about it since? And after a few days at Vienna I should like to go on to Pest, and refresh my memories of the old Schemnitz; but the pleasure of Wien would depend very much on finding some of my former acquaintances, and yet I am half afraid that by that time of year you may be doing as I often do myself ving. run away from the city when the fine weather comes on. I have two small boys who are just old

friends here, not old enough to travel across the seas.

I shall hope to hear from you shortly after which I shall try to arrange plans, & mean while am

Yours sincerely
Warrington Smyth
